RON WILSON
FURNITURE REMOVALS & STORAGE

Are your pot plants going to accompany you on your upcoming move?

The following document will help you understand the conditions in place when moving pot plants with Ron Wilson Removals.

MOVING POT PLANTS

Small Pot Plants: can be placed into suitable containers.

Large Pot Plants: Due to equipment and occupational health and safety issues, Ron Wilson Removals can only move pot plants that are up to 195cm high with a pot no larger than 70cm square (across the flat planes) or in diameter with a maximum pot height of 90cm tall.

Please be advised the risks involved with moving ceramic or clay pots, due to inherent damage (cracking and other faults during production, from age or from pot drying out). The removal crew cannot take any responsibility for either the pot or the plant. Refrain from watering 2 days prior to moving to reduce the weight of the plant due to the soil being wet, and prevent muddy water seeping out of the plant, damaging furniture and cartons.

Interstate Plant Transportation:

Please be aware that the Department of Agriculture/Quarantine have restrictions on a variety of horticulture items.

Insurance

Please note that Ron Wilson Removals don't offer insurance cover for Pot Plants.
